Gwynne Woman Committed on Stabbing Charge

Mrs. Margaret Ellen Gunner, wife of Alvin Gunner of the Gwynne district, was remanded for trial Monday afternoon at the preliminary hearing on the charge that she did on March 19th, with intent to disfigure, unlawfully wound and do grievous bodily harm to the person of Edwin Gordon Gunner, a child of fifteen months old, by stabbing him in the face with a jack knife, contrary to section 273 of the Criminal Code of Canada. The accused, who apparently has Indian blood in her veins, sat calmly in the prisoner's box and was keenly interested in the evidence given by her against her. She was not represented by a lawyer, but her case is being handled by an Edmonton solicitor, who advised her not to say anything at the preliminary.

The first witness was Ruben Gunner, father of the child, who referred to the birthday party being held at O. Burkhardt's Sunday afternoon and gave the names of those present. During the afternoon, there was music and conversation, and about five o'clock the accused went into the bedroom where the child was sleeping. Immediately after the child cried loudly, and his wife rushed in and found the baby bleeding badly in the face. Accused came out of the room and remarked that "I fixed him because you are making fun of me." He saw a brown colored knife in her right hand. She left the house and started down the road.

Alvin Gunner, husband of accused, was the next witness, and he corroborated the evidence given by his brother, Ruben. He saw his wife go out of the house, and he later passed her on the road as he went to meet the doctor. He identified the "jack knife" allegedly used in the stabbing as his own. As he was returning with the doctor, his wife and the injured child on the way to the hospital, the accused asked him to take her home. He asked his wife why she did it and she replied "It was all right and she was going home to her folks next day." She also shouted "I am square with you, Mary."

Otto Burkhardt testified that he saw blood on the baby's face and heard accused say "I took knife and cut the baby's face." He also identified a blood-stained flannel blanket which was on the bed.

Mrs. Mary Gunner, mother of the injured child, the next witness, made a pathetic sight as she appeared to give evidence with the wounded baby in her arms. She stated that when she heard the baby crying she rushed into the room and found it bleeding on the bed and the accused was the only other person in the room and she was standing near the bed. She hurried to the kitchen with the baby to wash the wounds and was so excited she did not know what else was happening. When the doctor arrived he found the wounds had been well treated, but ordered the baby to the hospital at once. On the way in they met accused on the road, and when they stopped to talk to her she threw up her arms and said, "We're square, Mary, we're square." Witness and accused were friendly, although accused never went to her home, and she knew she never cared for the baby.

Dr. Stevenson testified that he found six gashes on the child's face, made with a sharp instrument. One wound on the left cheek was about five-eighths of an inch deep and one and three-quarters inches long, and one on the right cheek was nearly as deep and long. The wound was severed about on half inch on the right side right through. There was a zig-zag cut below the chin about one and one-half inches deep. The other cuts were not so serious. He put in 26 or 28 stitches, the wounds were healing nicely, and it is not likely the scars will show permanently.

Mrs. Burkhardt swore the accused told her she did it and could do nothing to help the wounded child. She asked her back into the house but she would not come and said many hard things about the baby's mother and called her nasty names. She heard her tell Mary she was square with her.

Weddings

ANDERSON-BENGTSON

On Thursday, March 23rd, at 8 p. m., a quiet and pretty wedding was solemnized, when Rev. P. M. Meyer united in holy bonds of matrimony, Anna Wilhelmina Bengtson and Andrew William Anderson, both of Wetaskiwin. The ceremony was performed in the presence of the nearest relatives and a few intimate friends.

GOVERNMENT PRINTING POLICY RAPPED

Edmonton, March 24. — Protests over the distribution of government printing were hurled from the opposition side of the house when the legislature had estimates under review Thursday night.

H. J. Montgomery (Liberal), Wetaskiwin, charged that some firms could not get a dollar's worth of orders, while a return showed that the Hon.'s share went to one Edmonton firm, Commercial Printers, Ltd., which got $54,000 worth of work in one year. This firm took over the business of the Henry Roche Company.

Pew printing firms were equipped to handle such government work or to give the prompt service required, replied Hon. R. G. Reid. When the work was arranged with the former Roche company the basis had been more favorable than ever before.

A larger share of government printing for Calgary was brought up by H. C. Farthing, Conservative. "From a return brought down Edmonton houses received $198,000 in the 1931-32 period, and Calgary $65,000," said the member. "Of the Edmonton total $45,000 was for seasonal and legislative work, but Edmonton still had $152,000 worth of a general nature compared with Calgary's $65,000."

MOVE TO REDUCE UTILITIES BOARD SALARIES BEATEN

Edmonton, March 24. — Giving no quarter to high-salaried officials, H. H. Dakin (Liberal), Beaver River, moved to reduce the pay of members of the Public Utilities Commission by $1,000 each when the house was dealing with these estimates on Thursday evening. His motion was overwhelmingly defeated, having the support of only the mover.

Premier Brownlee explained to the house that under the salary reduction plan, A. A. Carpenter, chairman of the board, whose salary was $7,200 a year, would contribute more than $1,000. The other commissioners, E. J. Brown, would also contribute more than $1,000 of his $8,000 annual salary.

"If it were not for that, I would move that they be reduced by $2,000 each," retorted the member for Beaver River. Earlier in the week, the member moved that the salary of R. J. Dinning, chairman of the liquor control board, be cut from $9,000 to $5,000. No action was taken by the board.

EFFECTIVE APRIL FIRST

The Hon. Mr. Weir, Federal Minister of Agriculture, announces that the Hog Grading Regulations passed by Order-in-Council P.C. 328 and appearing in the "Canada Gazette" of January 30th, 1932, being covered by enabling legislation in the Province of Alberta, will be applied and become effective throughout the Province on Saturday, April 1st, 1933.

she saw a knife in the accused's hand as she ran down the road, and heard the bad words she said about Mrs. Ruben Gunner.

Constable Crouch was the last witness, and he related the difficulty he had in arresting the accused. He had to break down the door to get into the home, but after gaining admittance, the accused was docile and made a statement to the effect that she committed the deed to get even with the baby's mother, who she claimed, had been saying things about her. She directed the constable to where the knife was, and when he picked it up found blood stains on it.

When called upon, the accused stated she had nothing to say, and the magistrate, R. M. Angus, before whom the hearing was held, committed her for trial.

R. W. Manley, K.C., acted for the Crown.

A large attendance is urged and requested.

PUBLIC ACCOUNTS COMMITTEE INVESTIGATING PIGEON LAKE HIGHWAY

The Public Accounts Committee of the Alberta Legislature are investigating the 1931 and 1932 road contracts awarded by the Provincial Government. There were 49 projects completed, and of this amount only a few were let by tender. The rest are all handed out without bids. As two of the contracts are in the Wetaskiwin district our readers will be interested in the following information supplied to the House by the Government at the request of Mr. Howson.

The first project is on the main highway between Leduc and Wetaskiwin, where the road was changed in some locations. There were 5.35 miles constructed at a cost of $15.00 per acre, 10% acres were grubbed at a cost of $15.00 per acre. Excavation was paid for as follows: 1740 yards loose rock at 25¢ per yard; 75315 yards common earth at 11¢ per yard; 2226 yards of wet excavation at 25¢ per yard, and 930 yards of hand ditching at 30¢ per yard.

Extras to the amount of $5475.88 were paid for and included grading $246.73, maintaining grade $74.03, repairing washouts $63.80, fencing $152.02, taking out and salvaging old culverts $101.64, hauling rocks for rip-rap $2.20, excavating, backfilling and hauling timbers for bridges $47.93, work on nuisance grounds $182.16, salvaging and replacing gravel surfacing from abandoned grade $2965.80, surfacing $1636.16, and moving crop $34.41.

The Wetaskiwin-Pigeon Lake road was built by the Western Canada Construction Company, who received $52,790.77. The mileage was 22.07. They were paid for clearing 111 acres at $20.00 per acre, grubbing 67% acres at $25.00 per acre. Excavation was paid for as follows: 312 yards solid rock at 65¢ per yard, 13,069 yards loose rock at 25¢ per yard, 202,612 yards common earth at 12¢ per yard and 32,809 yards wet excavation at 25¢ per yard. For extras they were paid $2563.49 and included $6.50 for clearing and grubbing, $424.32 for grading, $1453.65 for maintaining grade, $48.40 for repairing washouts, $108.68 for fencing, $1212.63 for taking out and salvaging old culverts, $49.17 for hauling rocks for rip-rap, $225.28 for moving telephone poles and stabs, and $34.76 for excavating, backfilling and hauling timbers for bridges.

It is felt that a much better price could have been secured had tenders been called for in all instances. This is borne out by comparing the prices of the two roads above-mentioned. The first was let by tender and the Wetaskiwin-Pigeon Lake road was given without tender, which cost considerably more especially as to clearing.

ing, grubbing and common excavation. It is also felt that too liberal allowances were made in the amount allowed in acreage for clearing and grubbing and the yardage allowed for solid rock, loose rock and wet excavation. These matters are now being investigated.

FUNERAL OF JAS. E. PEXTON

The funeral of Jas. Elgy Pexton, who was accidentally killed while sawing wood at the Battle Lake school on March 17th, was held on Thursday afternoon last, services being conducted in Immanuel Church by Rev. A. M. Trendell, and the interment was in the Wetaskiwin cemetery. A large number of friends attended to pay their last respects to the departed, and the floral tributes were very beautiful, those contributing being: Bouffie, Lee and family, Emile, Gladys, Mel and Hink, Mr. and Mrs. L. Emberton, Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Bilsen, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Mosseson, Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Wallin, Mr. and Mrs. A. V. Bilsen, The U. F. A. and U.F.W.A., J. Nelson, H. Nelson, K. Mosseson, O. Hodson, Lee Bye and family, Esther, Alice and Ruth Dahlberg, Violet Rump. He was born at Hull, England, and came to this district ten years ago. He leaves two sisters and a brother in Canada, Mrs. O. T. Williams, Nampa, Alta., Mrs. B. L. Lochhead, of Viscount, Sask., and Fred of Peace River, also a father, mother, brother and sister in England.

DR. WANNOP GIVES ILLUSTRATED ADDRESS ON CHINA

The members of the Wetaskiwin Kiwanis club were given another treat on Tuesday evening, when Dr. Wannop gave an illustrated talk on China. The doctor spent six years there and as he made a close study of conditions, he is well qualified to speak on the subject, especially on the southern part where he resided. The great wall which is about 417 miles long and goes over mountains and through rivers, is 15 feet high and 60 feet thick built of brick, stone and mud. The gate, captured by the Japs, is really a tunnel. He described the conditions at Hong Kong and Canton. At Canton about half the people live in boats, families of four or five living in a boat about 14 by 4 feet in size. The people have no authority to work on the land and the land people have no authority to work on the water. The streets in the cities are from three to ten feet wide, hence the flies are numerous and the sanitation poor. Chinese women do most of the carrying and will carry 300 lbs for miles. The doctor also describes how rice was grown and threshed and how silk was produced from the cocoon and manufactured.

The government has no control over the people outside of a small area, hence banditry is carried on almost uninterrupted. The strongest bands overpower the weaker and steal everything they can, and will keep possession until a stronger body conquers them. People are shot for stealing. The money system is nearly all silver, the largest coin being 20c. Paper money is issued by the government. Religious rites last from two days to two weeks, according to the wealth of the deceased, and the ceremony is always at night with nothing in the day.

BAN TRUCKS ON NORTH HIGHWAYS

Edmonton, March 25.—Following the warning issued by the provincial public works department that a ban on truck and bus traffic was likely to be issued on some of the provincial highways during the heavy spring conditions, an order was issued Friday closing the highway from Ponoka to Edmonton, and from Edmonton west to Styal on the Jasper highway.

This order goes into effect on Monday morning and covers all bus and truck traffic, now banned until further notice from the portions of highway mentioned.

Whether it will be necessary to extend the ban to include other highways remains to be seen.

REJECT BEER PARLOR

Edberg, March 23.—The proposal to open a beer parlor was rejected by 35 to 24 in a local option vote here Wednesday, according to the final count taken by Returning Officer W. J. Brady.

Hospital Agreement Accepted By City Council

A regular meeting of the City Council was held Tuesday evening, with all members in attendance.

After the adoption of the minutes of last meeting, Ed. Johnson asked permission to erect sign over meat shop door. He was referred to the building bylaw which regulates the erection of signs.

C. A. Davidson, of the highway commission, wrote re account for constructing road through Wetaskiwin. Filed.

Letters from C. H. Russell and others on tax matters were read and filed.

Chief of Police McIlhargey interviewed Council respecting the handling of transients, who are getting more numerous. The Chief was instructed to carry on as in the past. A notice was authorized to be inserted in The Times respecting the payment of licenses.

Five of the elevators in the city wrote re the business tax charged in Wetaskiwin, which is 15% to elevators, asking for reduction. No reduction can be made this year as mill rate has been struck.

W. Zinkan, C.E., wrote re the matter of drainage and carrying on work which would assist unrelieved. He will be informed there is no prospect of any work this year.

A letter was received from the Department stating that the application of A. Brickman for old age pension was granted.

C. O. Cunningham, Ponoka, wrote asking for rent for his house occupied by person on relief. Referred to Relief Committee.

The Community Hospital agreement in which the three Municipalities were interested and which was agreed to by the representatives of the Municipalities, was presented and read. The Mayor and Secretary were authorized to sign same.

Secretary of Community Hospital notified Council of Wetaskiwin patients in hospital, and submitted financial statement for February. Filed.

The application of Hugh Stewart as caretaker of cemetery was accepted. Salary to be $50.00 a month.

Accounts to the amount of $213.10 were passed for payment.

Council considered matter of salary schedule for laborers, and it was decided to leave it as at present.

A petition for sidewalk was held over for later consideration.

A lengthy discussion took place on relief cases.

Ald. Enman gave notice that at next meeting he would introduce by-law respecting the cutting of grass on boulevards.

Fred Ranning was re-engaged as caretaker of parks at $50 a month.

The Chief of Police was instructed to engage dog catcher, and to clean up dog nuisance in town.

Meeting adjourned.

AUTO LICENSES TO BE REDUCED

Edmonton, March 25.—General reduction of $5 on all Alberta motor car licenses will be made effective on Monday April 3, according to an announcement made in the legislature Monday afternoon by Premier J. E. Brownlee. He promised during his budget debate speech to make an announcement on this subject at an early date.

The general reduction thus brought into effect is estimated to reduce government revenue from this source by $160,000, but this is expected to be at least partially offset by the increase in the gasoline tax from five to six cents a gallon.

The government, said the premier, decided on the general $5 reduction as an emergency measure. He reminded the house that this must not be considered as a government policy for future years. The premier also pointed out that conforming to past custom, there would be the usual half yearly reduction in motor licenses commencing on August 1. Between April 3 and August 1 those who take out licenses will pay $5 less than they would had they taken their licenses out between January 1 and April 3.

of the Alberta Legislature

The interest of the week centred around the direct contracts made by the Liberal leader, W. R. Howson, in reference to the construction of roads in the province under the supervision of the department of public works of which the Hon. O. L. McPherson is the minister. The U.F.A. members seem to be developing considerable alarm as the inquiry proceeds. It was at first thought that a couple of days' work on the part of the public accounts committee would dispose of the whole matter, but a week has gone by and it would appear now that the inquiry is likely to develop along lines of startling interest. So far the U.F.A. Government through the department of public works is decidedly on the defensive.

In the meantime the public are deeply interested in the number of contracts upon which contractors started the work before the contracts were signed and the further fact that there was a large amount of work done in 1932 without tender. However, the following are some of the questions put by the Liberal leader in the inquiry and the answers given by paid officials of the government.

Road contracts made by the provincial department of public works in 1931 and 1932. Under the relief scheme, were given an airing before the public accounts committee of the legislature. On Monday morning the first round of the inquiry was voluminous all the contracts, correspondence, and reports connected with the two years' work being called for and laid on the table. It was suggested that information about the road work of other years as well may also be desired.

C. A. Davidson highways commissioner, was the first witness called.

Q.—How many road contracts were let in 1931 and 1932? A.—Forty-nine.

Q.—How many of these were by competitive bids? A.—Nine.

Q.—Who let the remaining 40? A.—I recommended and the minister awarded.

Q.—How many were let to contractors who were already working on the job before the contract was let? A.—18.

Q.—How many, after work was commenced, with no competitive bids? A.—28.

Q.—Take contract No. 36, given to Commercial Cartage Company. This company was working three months before given contract? A.—Yes.

Q.—Nos. 39 and 40 were given to Campbell and O'Connor companies, and each company was at work before awarded the contract? A.—While no formal contract was executed, there was acknowledgement by letter.

Q.—Was contract No. 43 let by competitive bid? A.—No it was an extension.

Q.—From what time? A.—July 4, 1932.

Q.—Was there a rush of relief construction at that time? A.—I would say there was a great deal of necessity.

Q.—But was there a rush then? A.—No.

Q.—How many contracts were let without competitive bids where no quantities of materials were inserted? A.—None, except six that were not in my jurisdiction.

Q.—You cannot tell then about any other than the 43 contracts in your own branch? A.—No.

Q.—Take four contracts let in April, 1932. Were they relief contracts? A.—I believe so.

Q.—Were they advertised? A.—I can get the information presently.

Q.—Tenders were got from each of the contractors? A.—Yes.

Q.—A contract was let on May 1, 1932, to E. O'Connor. Why was it let without tender? A.—I should like to look up my records.

Q.—Well, your return will show that that contract was let at a higher price for solid rock than any other of the 48 contracts. A.—Yes, that is so, except one.

Q.—That same first contract let without competitive bid allowed a price for loose rock 17 cents higher than any other? A.—Yes.

Q.—What loss did that mean to the province? A.—I am not prepared to say there was any loss.

Q.—In these contracts the contractors have been allowed to put in loose rock when conditions did not warrant, so the contractor could get in some cases. To a very small extent. Did you not allow wet soil to be classified as loose rock? A.—Tent.

Q.—What other material is classified and paid for as loose rock which is not loose rock as defined in terms of contract? A.—Frozen earth in some cases and saturated clays.

Q.—So you do not hold the contractor absolutely to his contract? A.—Yes, we do. But there has to be an interpretation of the contract.

Q.—That first contract let without competitive bids also had a higher price for excavation than any other bit one? A.—Yes.

Q.—And the work began April 23, 1931, before the relief program was started. How much was paid to the contractor? A.—The final amount was $64,058.

Q.—Please figure up the amount that should have been paid at the prices called for in the contract.

Q.—Now take contract No. 2, to the Campbell Construction Company; clearing and grubbing? A.—Nothing. How much was allowed on this contract? Other bids by the company were $64 for solid rock, 30¢ for loose rock, 15¢ for common excavation, $1.50 per cubic yard, $1.50 or paving.

Q.—I would now like to have prepared and submitted to the committee a complete statement of all the contracts, locally, contractors, dates, schedule of prices, units and extras on 10 contracts. Nos. 1 to 10 inclusive. A.—It will be prepared for you.

Q.—On contract 42 awarded to Western Canada Construction Company, what was the amount? A.—The final settlement was $19,832. (Mr. Davidson itemized the amount in full).

Q.—Please make up for me the extras on this contract and No. 43. Contract 29, let to Western Canada Construction Company, dated Oct. 26, 1931, is the next one I want to take up. Work began on this Oct. 1, a full 25 days before contract was let? A.—Yes.

Q.—When was the contract prepared? A.—October 22.

Q.—From what information? A.—On no engineering information whatever. At that time there was no definite data as to the location to Alberta Beach.

Q.—Was there an engineer on the job from Oct. 1 to Oct. 22? A.—Yes.

Q.—Who was he? A.—J. Christopherson.

Q.—Where did the work begin? A.—At Cair Corner.

Q.—How many acres were allowed in the contract for clearing? A.—20.

Q.—What was the acreage in the final settlement? A.—A large amount—over 102 acres.

Further examination on this contract brought out the information that quantities named in the contract and in the final settlement were respectively: grubbing, in acres 10 and 39; solid rock, cubic yards, 150 and 5,107; loose rock, 2,000 and 76,574; common excavation, $7,000 and 107,000; station yards overhauled, 6,000 and 24,555; raffraff, 100 and 550; paving, 40 and 258.

"These figures show," Mr. Howson went on, "that for every 1,103 yards of common excavation there was one yard of solid and loose rock. Is that correct?" A.—Yes.

On Wednesday the line of attack on the government's methods and practices, again led by W. R. Howson was an effort to establish irregularities in the handling of the contract which was let to the Western Canada Construction Company, and the morning's gist of evidence was with a view to proving that there had been wrong classifications on the work, resulting in the over-payment of public funds.

I read an article on Canada absorbing the U.S. on the front page of your paper. I didn't notice the date, but I can't resist the temptation to answer it. Really I gave you credit for more knowledge of that country than to print such an absurd article. Hinted at it being on the same basis as India and if taken over by this country it might be put to where they would be able to govern themselves by 2000 A.D.

Now I have lived part of my life in both countries—30 years in the U.S. and 20 years in Canada. Let us look back over the time since the settlement of North America, and see who has made the most of their time.

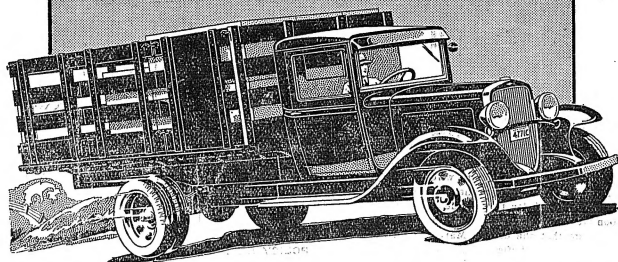

The first settlement was in Canada in 1605 and in the U.S. at Jamestown, Virginia, in 1607. Today the U.S. has a population of 120 million, just ten times more than this country, and the U.S. have around four billion invested here if the future is to be judged by the past, I'd like the writer of that article to figure out just how long it will take Canada to complete the absorbing act. As far as their being a backward nation is concerned, nearly all of our modern machinery was first patented in the U.S. The steam engine, reapers and binders, sewing machines, automobiles, plows, combines, tractors. It has been one of the most forward nations in the world, the manufacturing line. The cotton industry didn't pay until the cotton gin was patented, and by another "no nothing" Yankee, too. It's amusing to hear some of the wise too tooth horns and talk about buying English cotton. England doesn't grow 1 lb. of cotton. England doesn't grow 1 lb. of cotton, but goes to other countries to buy the raw cotton, ships it to England and runs it through her mills, and ships it back over here and sells us English cotton. The U.S. is the largest exporting cotton country in the world and we lay right up against it with a tariff of around 33% on the international boundary line.

We could just as well have 15 yards of cotton goods as to get ten for the same money. Believe me, we are surely paying for English cotton and if you will trace the cotton to where it was grown no doubt it was U.S. cotton to start with, and we are paying the freight on it across the sea twice. Wake up, writer, your brain is in the Dark Continent. There was a complaint about the U.S. being divided into 48 different states. Well, Canada is divided into Provinces, too. There is one thing, the U.S. public men and generals have no comeback when they betray their country, they want to beat it and stay, or all those 48 states will stand together and help hand them.

Mr. Robert Borden threw this country into the world war. A few capitalists made money. Mr. Borden was transformed into Sir Robert Borden and stayed here and lived. The flower of Canada's young men lie buried in France and the Canadian people have been paying the bill ever since and continue to do so. And why should they go into the world war? It was understood in the U.S. that the U.S. promised England to protect Canada before England went into the war herself. But it seems the Canadians never knew that. They seemed to think the Germans would come over and take this country when they got England beat. It looks to me like that information was withheld. I lived in the States at the time and people down there couldn't understand Canada going into the war.

Mr. Laurier, the Liberal leader, was this country's friend and if he had won that election things would be far different here today.

The Canadians today see the mistake and are trying to get reciprocity through, but the U.S. farmers were opposed to Mr. Taft in that and were very sore at the thought of all this meat and wheat coming in there duty free in competition with U.S. products. The Canadians those days were too busy making money to dwell on the political situation, and listened to agitators and voted against Reciprocity, but since the duty went on the line in 1921 and their profits have dropped so much they have plenty of time to ponder on past mistakes. There was a time, I can remember when the U.S. taxes were very reasonable up until automobiles, but cars needed extra good roads, and every one needed a high school education and school vans to haul them to town and mail delivered in rural districts every day. Now in the warm states ice is delivered three times a week to farmers and it all costs money. Of course the government doesn't pay for delivering ice, but all the above comes under government pay. Now this country are following in their footsteps. The people down there

Canadian businessmen are purchasing more Chevrolets than any other make of haulage unit! You can match one of these new Chevrolet Trucks — with its rugged chassis and its big Chevrolet-built body — against almost any got just what they voted for, and instead of wanting less and cut down on the expense — they keep wanting more, and as long as they do there is no chance for taxes being lowered much. The trouble is, everyone is trying to keep up with the Jones's, and buy clothes, cars, furniture, houses and everything on instalment. Some cooked with gas, farmed with gas, rode in a car and delivered the grain with a truck, but this depression has called a halt which has worked a great hardship, but has helped to wake them up a little to the true situation, but as far as that country needing anyone to learn them how to govern themselves is concerned, this country has never shown them anything, they were too busy following them up, and instead of Canada absorbing the U.S. it will be the other way around. And it can't come too quick. It estimates the Canadian farmer going and coming, 2c a lb. on cattle, 10c a bushel on wheat. Then 25% on cream separators and a like amount (or near there) on all machinery. What does it profit a farmer to buy Canadian machinery? It costs the same, and all Canadian machine companies are doing is bleeding the farmers to death. They fight for a high tariff then pocket the amount U.S. manufacturers have to pay for getting their products across the line; but I haven't much hopes of Reciprocity, as I believe it will take annexation to open the international boundary line, and that's our only way of escape. Europe is facing another war and it isn't far off. Let North America stand together and mind her own business and live all to herself if need be to live peaceable.

Wetaskiwin Member Gives Views on the Railway Bill

The following is a Hansard report of an address given in the House by Wm. Irvine, M.P. for Wetaskiwin, on the proposed railway bill:

Mr. Speaker, with some of the remarks of the previous speaker in regard to the railway bill, I am in agreement. But with some of the asides he made I am not so much in harmony. For instance, he made reference to the C.C.F. It is not very long ago since he was claiming in the western provinces that the Co-operative Commonwealth Federation were preaching the gospel that the Liberal party had preached for so long. Now the hon. gentleman charges the government with being C.C.F. I do not know whether he is intending to insult the government or the C.C.F.

Previous speakers in this debate have laid great stress and emphasis upon the importance of railway service in Canada in that regard I need not repeat what they have said. Nearly all speakers have offered felicitations to the minister for the high ground he took in presenting the bill, and particularly for his eschewing anything in the nature of a party debate. I am sorry that I have to oppose a measure so presented. I agree with the broad generalizations of the previous speaker in respect to economic conditions throughout the world which certainly indicate, as I understood him, that the railway problem cannot be solved by itself, that it is merely part of a great economic problem with which Canada and the world is faced and that the railway problem would more or less automatically solve itself, were the major economic problems of the country solved.

I oppose the bill not because of some of its details, with which I also disagree, but because of the principles involved. I am not influenced by any undue enthusiasm for national ownership, for as a matter of fact we have not got a national railway in Canada. Everyone should know, if they do not, that the people of Canada through their government became responsible for the bonds, worthless in some instances of defunct concerns—

Miss Macphail: Privately owned.

Mr. Irvine:—That it guaranteed those bonds and the interest on them and the Canadian people have since that time run the railway in the interest of those who own the bonds. That is not national ownership. So I have little enthusiasm for the railway system thus begotten and controlled. I oppose the bill chiefly because it ignores the difficulty for which it purports to be a remedy. What are the conditions? I shall not waste the time of the house by going into the figures as presented by the Duff report, upon which this legislation is largely based; I confine myself rather to what those figures indicate. In the main, the figures show that the fixed charges on the Canadian National are greater than the earning power of the system can support. And the traffic is becoming less, naturally through the present depression. Higher freight rates cannot be charged to make up the deficits, therefore not only the Canadian National is called, but the Canadian Pacific as well, are both coming to the point where they cannot take care of their fixed charges. These fixed charges jeopardize both railway systems. The fixed charges of course are charges on bonds, and arise out of a faulty financial system. Bonds represent money invested, and money is supposed to represent wealth. Wealth is perishable, but bonds are eternal. Besides being guaranteed eternal life these bonds have been fructified through being made interest-bearing and become prolific in their creation of debt. If bonds were no more eternal than any form of wealth which money might represent there would be no such debts as we have today. But on this phase of the matter I shall not dwell.

In order to meet the shortage in earning power of the railways to take care of fixed charges the bill proposes retrenchment. The retrenchments proposed are at the expense of the railway workers, the wage earners of the system. They are also at the expense of the railway services which should be given to the people of Canada, in view of all the expenditures and guarantees which the people of Canada have made and given on both systems. Why should there be retrenchment of railway services at the present time? Certainly not because of lack of equipment for wear as asserted by the minister on the authority of the present head of the national system, that the equipment was never in better order. So it is not due to lack of railway lines or cars or engines or men that we have to curtail services. But we propose to curtail railway services in order that we may protect the interests of the bondholders. There can be no question about that. I am opposed to the bill because its purpose is retrenchment in the interest of bondholders in a vain attempt to meet the situation I have described. That attempt ultimately will be absolutely vain.

Let me come then to the real point as I regard the duty and responsibility of an individual member of this house. Members of this parliament really represent the directors of the Canadian National Railways, since, as I have described a certain government of this country made the Canadian people responsible for paying the interest on bonds and paying the principal. In connection with this situation therefore, this parliament is in the position of directors of the company representing the investment of the Canadian people. As such I ask, will the people of Canada be able more adequately to meet the payments of the bonds that they have guaranteed and the interest on those bonds, as well as the expenses of the national railway, by passing this bill? As far as I have been able to understand from the bill itself, or from the speakers on the government side, or others who have supported the measure, I cannot see how the position of the Canadian people can be improved in the slightest degree by the passing of this bill. Therefore, unless such assurance can be given me as a representative of the people in this enterprise, I feel it my duty to oppose the bill. I contend that this bill will jeopardize the investments for which the people have become responsible. The people of Canada cannot carry both systems while the fixed charges remain as they are. Up to this time the two railway systems have been running in competition. According to the statement of the minister and many others, as far as this bill is concerned, this competition is not to be interfered with. But the inevitable logic of competition is that one or other of the systems will not survive. Faced with the fact that competition is not to be interfered with, according to the minister and recognizing that the logic of competition means that either the Canadian National or the Canadian Pacific will ultimately go down, there are only two courses which this government could take. The first course is competition to the death, giving no quarter to the Canadian Pacific, writing off the dead stock of the Canadian National, economizing in every legitimate way, getting the best possible management, meeting the Canadian Pacific at every turn with irresistible competition. The other course is the nationalization of the Canadian Pacific along with the other. There is no middle course. Of course we cannot nationalize the Canadian Pacific on the same basis as we did the Canadian National, for today that would bankrupt the nation. But the bill does not propose that we nationalize the Canadian Pacific, it proposes rather something which would require Professor Einstein and the use of his fourth dimension to explain, for it is to be competition with cooperation, and outside of the fourth dimension I am unable to explain what that would mean. In spite of the fact that the management was highly praised by the minister for having saved the nation a great deal of money last year this management is to be changed, and the interests of the Canadian Pacific Railway are to be given at least equal attention.

Perhaps it may be regarded by some as being part of the duty of this government and of parliament to give equal attention to concerns other than national concerns, but since the bonds guaranteed by the Canadian people would be jeopardized if the Canadian National were to be run inefficiently or to yield in competition to the other line I maintain that our first duty is to the Canadian National, in order that these bonds may not be endangered by any legislation on the part of the administration to face the competition of the opposing system. Since competition is to be adhered to, according to the decision of the government, I submit that the national system must fight the Canadian Pacific to the death. Every ton of goods hauled over the Canadian Pacific which might be hauled by the Canadian National will jeopardize that enterprise and endanger the investment that has been guaranteed by the Canadian people. I say this bill brings about fraternity with the enemy, and since the government under the proposed measure loses control of management of the national system it may be even worse than that. Hon. members may argue that if the government regarded as the resource of the state behind the Canadian National and enter into keen, cutthroat competition with the Canadian Pacific it would mean the ultimate bankruptcy of the Canadian Pacific, but had thought that might be I say it would be better than the bankruptcy of the nation, and in my opinion this course will bankrupt the nation.

Let us look for a moment at this proposed compulsory arbitration. I conceive that this would be resorted to most frequently when one line or the other made extravagant claims in one particular; this body then would decide just how the matter should be settled. Let us suppose that this board should make what might be regarded as a fair decision under the circumstances; no one would quarrel with that. But let us suppose this arrangement had not been made and that through competition the Canadian National gained the advantage otherwise yielded by a decision of the board. Then to the extent that such an advantage might be realized by the actions of the arbitral tribunal the Canadian people would suffer and their bonds would be jeopardized. If on the other hand, however, as a result of competition the Canadian Pacific would have obtained an advantage but for the decision of the board, then there will come a time when this railway problem no longer can be put off as it is put off by this bill and when the effect on the financial structure of the company inevitably will be felt. Then the Canadian Pacific Railway will have at least a moral, and for all I know a legal, claim upon this government for having interfered with open competition and having thus brought the railway to the point where it cannot longer carry on. That will be the argument, and in that case we will find the people of Canada left holding the bag in both instances, burdened with the responsibility of meeting the bonds of both railway systems.

In my opinion, Mr. Speaker the objective of this parliament should be one national railway system, and that system may be evolved in one of two ways. The first method of bringing about one national system of railways would be by having the Canadian National successfully compete with the Canadian Pacific until that road became bankrupt, when it might be taken over at bankrupt prices. So far as I know there is only one other way of accomplishing that purpose; that is to face facts as they are and conscript or expropriate the Canadian Pacific as it now stands. There is no other course open except the yielding of the Canadian National to the Canadian Pacific, thus losing to the Canadian people the investment they have guaranteed by the assets of the nation. Of course I appreciate the fact that this house would not think of conscripting the Canadian Pacific; the house only thinks of conscripting men in time of war. It is all right to conscript men, give them $1.10 a day and kill them; there is nothing wrong about that. But when this nation is faced with a tremendous problem which neither the government nor the opposition can solve, if one should propose that in order to meet this problem we should create one national system by conscripting the Canadian Pacific, and pay $1.10 a day to those holding Canadian Pacific bonds while they lived, that would be breaking faith with the bondholders. It is much simpler for us to break faith with humanity; that really does not matter, but the bondholders must be saved without regard to expense.

In view of the fact, therefore, that this bill rather evades the situation which it purports to meet; in view of the fact that it proposes to put competition on a cooperative basis, which is impossible and which in the last analysis probably will mean that the government will stop competing but that the Canadian Pacific will continue; in view also of the fact that if this bill is carried into practical effect it will mean jeopardizing the investment guaranteed to the bondholders of the Canadian National by the people of Canada, as a representative of those people I have no choice but to vote against the bill.

EVERYONE IN WETASKIWIN TO TASTE "PEP"

During the past week every home in Wetaskiwin received a generous sample of Kellogg's "Pep," so that everyone may try this delicious and healthful Canadian-made food.

"Pep" is highly recommended as a health regulator, for it contains a good percentage of bran in a delicious combination with other parts of wheat. Children, especially, love it, and mothers enjoy seeing the children eat "Pep" breakfasts, as this natural regulator does away with the need for children's laxatives and relieves mothers of the unpleasant job of doing the administering.

It is often very difficult to make children eat foods that are absolutely necessary for them. Every child, or instance, should drink a quart of milk a day. Because good dependable milk is one of the most wonderful foods for children.

Many wise mothers have found that Kellogg's ready-to-eat cereals are the easiest as well as the most healthful way of encouraging a child to take plenty of milk. The number of combinations of Kellogg's Cereals with other foods is almost endless and, even over a long period of time, they can be made different and thus tempting to the child's taste.

And then there are so many Kellogg's Cereals, too. A favorite for each appetite... a preferred dish for every individual. Some like Corn Flakes. Most kiddies are crazy about PEP Bran Flakes. Rice Krispies with their "snap! crackle! pop!" never fail to delight them.

Adding honey or fruit makes a brand-new dish. Serving cereals in combinations is a new taste delight.

In order to help you with the problem of encouraging your child to eat foods that are really good for him, Kellogg has prepared a series of booklets especially for the children. Here in the midst of play, for example, they learn that hot, heavy foods are not so good for them at night as crisp, easily digested cereals — and many other facts that will simplify your feeding the children.

OXYGEN SAVED LIVES AT COMMUNITY HOSPITAL

The Board of the hospital, some weeks ago, decided to install the latest equipment enabling oxygen to be administered. Accordingly, two tanks containing in a compressed form, 88 gallons were secured. No sooner was this equipment obtained than several demands were made on it. The Board has the satisfaction of knowing that their foresight in this respect, if not the means of saving valuable lives, has indeed been a contributing factor. It is not generally known that oxygen may be administered sub-cutaneously as well as by inhalation.

BEAUTIFUL PAINTING DONATED TO HOSPITAL

A particularly fine picture has been placed in the hospital. The artist is Mrs. Paul Mossion and she has treated her subject "The Rock of Ages" with excellent taste and that fidelity to detail which is inherent in works of nationally known craftsmen. The appropriate frame for this beautiful picture was donated by the Scandinavian Welfare Society. A visit to the hospital to examine this work of art would be time well spent.

LIBERALS ASSAILED AGRICULTURAL VOTE

Sharp attacks from the Liberal ranks were launched when estimates for the department of agriculture were disposed of in the legislature Friday afternoon.

The main assault was launched by L. A. Groulx, Liberal, Groulx, against the operating of the Olds school of agriculture, for which $57,691 was provided in the estimates. His motion that this vote be struck out received scant support and was declared lost.

Later on, J. J. Bowlen, Liberal, Calgary, made severe criticisms of the vote of $40,293 mainly for the district agriculturalists of whom there are 11 in the province. He thought this service could be dispensed with in these times.

After Mr. Groulx and P. A. McKew, U.F.A., Whitford, had spoken in laudatory terms of the work of the district agriculturalists, the vote was passed.

Grants which were passed included $150,000 each for the Edmonton and Calgary spring and fall shows. Last year, these grants were each $3,000. The grants also passed included $1,690 for breeders' associations in Calgary, Edmonton and Lacombe and $350 for the Alberta Fairs association.

The estimates for only one school of agriculture, that at Olds, were submitted as the government has decided to close the one at Vermilion in the interests of economy.

"There is no system in Canada that is as good as ours for carrying the boys and girls back to the farm," observed the minister.

"Could this work not be done at the university farm school?" asked Mr. Groulx.

"The students would not have the proper environment in this city," replied the minister.

The house passed an appropriation of $12,393 for destruction of noxious weeds, compared with an estimate of $36,242 last year.

"You are making a pretty heavy cut there," said Mr. Bowlen to Hon. Mr. Hoadley. "In my opinion, the destruction of noxious weeds is much more important to this province than the district agriculturalists."

Hon. Mr. Hoadley said that while the estimate had been reduced severely, it was expected that more of this work would be done by the municipalities.

Without comment the house passed the vote of $6,266 for school fairs. Last year, the estimate was $28,416.

When the vote of $6,400 for costs of exhibits at eastern shows was discussed, F. R. Falconer, Liberal, Athabasca, asked if any grant was being made for the forthcoming world's wheat show at Regina.

Hon. Mr. Hoadley said that the only cost to the province would be freight on exhibits and outlay in connection with judging teams. "It would cost us from $5,000 to $15,000 to arrange a provincial exhibit, which is out of the question," said the minister.

The total vote passed for the department of agriculture was $343,442 on income account, as against $492,264 last year.

TO ELIMINATE SCHOOL FAIRS

Edmonton, March 27.—Agricultural services throughout the province will be seriously curtailed this year as the result of drastic cuts made by the government in the estimates of this department. School fairs will be eliminated as will also appointment of district supervisors for weed control work, and any supervision of this kind must be arranged by the municipalities.

Staffs of all the agricultural schools, with the exception of the principal and farm manager, have been released, and it is expected that only the Olds school will be operated next winter, district agriculturalists have been notified that they will be given three months' holiday without pay during the year.

THE CHICKEN OF TODAY

The old red hen "ain't what she used to be," Prof. J. C. Graham, head of the poultry department of the Massachusetts State College, said recently.

"The chicken of today is forced into early maturity and is kept operating at a speed which would have killed her 1900 ancestor. In the old days a chicken was born and a few days later she was out in the yard tugging at worms. Now many of the incubator-hatched chicks never get out of a building until their laying days are over. Back a few years ago the ordinary hen started laying at 8 to 10 months, but now the poultry man has hastened things along so that he expects them to be laying at five to seven months.

GIVE ME BACK MY FIVE BUCKS

The announcement this week that 1933 car licenses may be bought on April 3, for $15.00 has provided the public with a very live topic. When enforcement of the 1933 license was put into stern effect on March 1 to March 6 there was the well-founded expectation that a later "adjustment" would take place. This was interpreted as meaning a refund, on the same line as prevailed two years ago. There was no intimation that this adjustment would take the form of a $5.00 reduction if purchase was delayed until April 3.

There is to be no refund on the licenses bought at $20.00. So the actual result is that car owners who have bought their $20.00 licenses have paid $5.00 for the privilege of running their cars for a month. In fact quite a number have paid $5.00 to run their cars for about two weeks. —High River Times.

Before Magistrate E. H. Jones, K.C., of Red Deer, John Olynk, of Clearview, was fined $5 and $10.50 costs or thirty days, for resisting a police officer (a bailiff).

LONE RIDGE LOCAL U.F.A.

The next meeting of the above local will be held in the Lone Ridge hall on Wednesday, April 5th, at 8 p.m. A special feature of this meeting will be the congratulations extended to Edmund Soderstrom on his recent success at Chicago.

Special addresses for the occasion will be given by Mr. Black, Dept. of Agriculture, on "Boys and Girls' Club Work," Mr. Hallman of the Field Crop Branch, and Russell Love, M.L.A. for Wainwright.

All boys and girls interested in Plg. Grain and Alfalfa Clubs, are urged to be present.

Committee will provide sandwiches. Will ladies please bring cakes. A hearty welcome to everybody.

Debate With Hillside

The postponed debate with the Hillside local, was held in the Lone Ridge hall on Thursday, March 23. A large crowd was present, and great appreciation was shown for the entertainment provided.

A program by local artists preceded and followed the debate, and the various numbers were greatly enjoyed and were given generous applause.

The debate on the subject "Resolved that Socialism offers the best solution of our present difficulties," provided a keen contest. Lone Ridge, upholding the negative side of the resolution, were successful in obtaining the unanimous decision of the judges. Hillside were represented by Messrs. H. G. Young, J. Orr and C. W. Dowdell, while W. Stevens, T. S. Steedman and B. S. Wallis took part for Lone Ridge.

The judges were C. D. Enman, N. Oswald and H. Pritchard.

Lunch was served following the debate, and then dancing was indulg-

Want a Partner?
Perhaps business is dragging for the want of a helping hand, or a little more capital. Men with money and men with brains read this paper. You can reach them through our Classified Want Ads.

---and and this to your profits

NO ONE can deny a man the right to spend his dollar where he may choose. It is his privilege to make his dollar produce the utmost in value. The decision as to where that value is to be found is, whether right or wrong, his to make. A tip on how to make the dollar go farther is permissible, however, and we suggest that you think about this:

Dollar Doublers
Our Classified Want Ads are real dollar doublers. In shoe leather and nervous energy they will save you many times their small cost by bringing to your door what you require, whether it be efficient help, a desirable borrower for surplus cash, a position or a divorcee. C A most convincing and irrefragable proof would be to try a Want Ad.

THE LOWEST PRICE does not always mean the best buy. Comparative quality and many other things enter into the transaction. But let us take two identical articles ---one here, at home---the other out of town. Let's suppose the out-of-town price is lower delivered to your door by 5c or 75c than the purchase you can make at home. But it is not the most economical buy. That money is gone for good; it will never return to you; whereas if spent at home---well, here's an illustration:

A SHOEMAN owes a baker $2.00 and gives him $1.00, thus discharging fifty per cent of his debt. The baker owes a farmer $2.00 for potatoes, so he pays the farmer half his debt with the dollar. The farmer purchases a pair of $2.00 shoes, paying $1.00 down. The shoeman uses the dollar to cancel his debt to the baker, the baker to the farmer, and the farmer pays for his shoes. The shoeman has paid his debt, made a sale and still has his original capital. So have the baker and farmer. That's COMMUNITY business. Three persons have made a profit on $1.00 and it's still in the community to make more.

The Dollar that Goes the Farthest is the one that STAYS AT HOME!

Reaching the People
A prominent real estate dealer in Toronto says that he gets better and quicker results from the Classified Want Ads, than from any other kind of publicity. He states that the results are out of proportion to the small expense involved. There is a moral in that for you if you want to reach the people.

A SQUARE PEG
in a Round Hole
You may be alright, but if you are in the wrong position you are like a square peg in a round hole. You want a position where you fit. This paper is read by intelligent business men, and a Want Ad. in our classified columns will reach them.

It Goes to The Home
Our paper goes to the home and is read and welcomed there. If you wish to reach the housewife, the real arbiter of domestic decisions, you can do so through our paper and our Classified Want Ads. form an interesting and well-read portion of it.

YEARS AGO people used to make themselves heard by shouting from the house tops. If you tried that to-day you would probably have to appear before a commission in insanity. NOW-A-DAYS the business man uses our Want Ads.

REV. CARLSON LOST KEY
RING DISC; IT IS FOUND IN HEART OF CABBAGE

Rev. Nels Carlson, pastor of the Camrose Lutheran Church, was much surprised to receive through the mail one morning last week a key ring identification disc which he had lost nearly five years ago. Mr. Carlson recalls having lost the disc, which was on a ring with his car keys, while he was driving through mud and rain at Butte, Montana. The lurching of the car caused the disc to become detached, he thinks, and it was later carried out of the car on the muddy boot of one of his companions, who got out now and then to give the car a shove. The disc was found about two weeks ago by Mrs. Sadie Sulwatz of Butte.

She had boiled a head of cabbage, and was cutting it open when the knife she was using struck a hard object. She then noticed that the cabbage was discolored and further investigation revealed the disc embedded in the heart of the vegetable. She forwarded the plate to Mr. Carlson's old address at Pierpont, S. D., and from there it was sent to Camrose. How the disc found its way into the cabbage is a matter for conjecture—Canadian.

DAIRYMEN WANT

BUTTER IN FUND

Edmonton, March 27.—Disappointed over the fact that no provision was made in the stabilization fund set up by the Dominion Government to pay the price of the pound sterling at $4.60 for butter, Alberta dairymen are considering making representations to the Dominion to have this commodity included, according to information gleaned in well-informed circles.

Just what form the representations will take is not known. It is likely that a resolution on the subject will be introduced into the Legislature, and if passed forwarded to Ottawa.

Still other rumors are that a delegation of dairymen will go east to interview Premier R. B. Bennett. Others are in favor of having some Alberta members of Parliament bring the matter up on the floor of the House of Commons. As the dairy industry is now one of the leading industries of the province, there is a general feeling that this commodity should receive consideration under the stabilization fund.

LIBRARY NOTES

Those who have easy access to good books sometimes fail to realize what a great influence such books may have in the proper development of our lives. Those who are able to discern and assimilate what is best in literature find that really good books, like true friends, are most useful when the need is greatest.

The Public Library is in a position of great importance, since for many people it is often the only channel through which the aid and counsel of a real but silent friend can be obtained. The Public Library must, therefore, keep its standard high, and endeavor to be in a position to respond to the ever-increasing demand for the best and noblest literary works.

A supply of new books will soon be placed on the library shelves, including the latest popular fiction and non-fiction.

Make use of the wonderful storehouse of knowledge that is at your service in the Wetaskiwin Public Library.

252,000 pelts of ermine were sent out of the province. This figure is expected to pass the 300,000 mark this season.

Teacher: "What does silence mean, Tommy?"

Tommy: "Please teacher, it's what you don't hear when you listen!"

Palpitation of the Heart
Nerves So Bad Could Not Sleep

Mrs. Fred Bingham, Swift Current, Sask., writes:—

"I was bothered with palpitation of the heart, and my nerves were so bad I could not sleep."

I had several operations which seemed to make me worse every time.

I was getting desperate and confided my trouble to a friend who recommended me to use Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills. I purchased a box and got such relief I would gladly recommend them to all who are troubled as I was."

For sale at all drug and general stores; put up only by The T. Milburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.
